Navajo Site Determined.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 7.—Local government officials finally have located the Navajo Indian reservation site, which is to be opened for settlement April 10, as being thirty-six miles west of Lawton and fifteen miles south of Hobart. It lies on both sides of the north fork of Red River, near the town of Roosevelt. The local officials already have received floods of inquiries regarding the opening.

WILSON MEN NOT PLEASED WITH GORE

Oklahoma City, Ok., Feb. 7.—There is no little soreness in the ranks of Wilson workers in Oklahoma, and Oklahoma City particularly, over the attitude of United States Senator Gore in declining to make speeches in behalf of the New Jersey governor's candidacy.

They assert that such was the original intention when the senator was asked to come to Oklahoma, and to which he really assented, they say, and some are declaring that the reported interview took place in Muskogee, following which the senator declared he would make no speeches in Oklahoma. Senator Gore, however, denies that he was intimidated; in fact, his assertion is that he did not intend to make speeches at all. In the same interview he said that he was for harmony.

In place of going to Northern Oklahoma, as he intended Monday morning, the senator did not leave his rooms on the parlor floor of the Skirvin hotel until this morning, when he checked out, but did not state which way his itinerary led. He is due to visit Grant and Garfield counties.

During yesterday and this morning he talked to a number of Wilson people about making a speech in Oklahoma City Friday night, asking what they thought about it. A number of those consulted rather tartly replied that he would have to work the proposition out for himself, and later, in explanation, they declared the Wilson cause had already been sufficiently damaged by the rumpus. Senator Gore left the impression with those he talked to that his decision would be forthcoming tomorrow.

Precinct conventions are to be held throughout Oklahoma Saturday, nominating delegates to the county convention and they in turn name delegates to the state convention. The position Oklahoma occupies at this time is politically interesting. It is the second state to make a formal declaration, and the Wilson people regard a definite position for any of the candidates will give such a candidate a "boost." At least that is the view of the Clark people, who are banking upon the Missourian getting an instructed delegation here on Feb. 22.

Feeling that the Oklahoma situation might yet be saved to the Wilson cause prompted the night letter to William J. Bryan at his mission retreat, asking him to make one or two speeches before the end of the week. His reply did not indicate he would or would not, but some regard it as favorable and that if a speech is not made the ex-candidate will issue a statement calculated to have about the same effect. The wire conversation has been followed by personal letters urging the Nebraskan to lend a helping hand.

Prospects of Bryan coming to Oklahoma are not hailed with joy from the Clark or Harmon ranks, and the open declaration is made that if such program is carried out "it will split the state wide open." In the past Bryan has had many ardent supporters in Oklahoma, but these supporters are badly divided now, and do not relish an interference that is calculated to cast asunder the alignments. Another phase of the fight is presented by some of the Clark people, who declare that the Missourian's strength in the state is known to be at least two-thirds, and that Senator Gore and others for Wilson are working for an instructed delegation. Incidentally, that would please the Harmon folk.

Chief Hounshell went to Okemah this afternoon as a witness in the cases of the three or four men arrested some weeks ago on charge of having burglarized several places in Weleetka.

Camps to Select Delegates.

Tulsa, Ok., Feb. 7.—The annual reunion of the National Order of United Sons of Confederate Veterans is called to meet at Macon, Ga., May 6, 7 and 8, 1912. I hereby instruct all camps in the state of Oklahoma to elect delegates to this meeting as provided by our constitution. Myself and a representative from the U. C. V. will go to Macon early in March to make arrangements for the Oklahomans.

TATE BRADY,

Commander Oklahoma Division, U. S. C. V.

MANY INDICTMENTS FOR DYNAMITING

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—Union labor officials and agents said to number between thirty and forty, whom the government holds criminally responsible with the McNamara and Ortie E. McManigal for perpetrating more than one hundred explosions which occurred in cities from Massachusetts to California in the last six years, and in which the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times building was an incident, were indicted today.

Thirty-two indictments were returned. Capias for arrests have been issued and all the men indicted are to be taken in custody on a day secretly fixed by the government, but known to be within a week. March 12 has been set for the arraignment before Federal Judge Anderson in Indianapolis. The papers for the arrests designate the amount of bond which the defendants may give in the federal districts in which they reside for their appearance here. The amounts of the bonds in the individual cases were not made known, but it was said in the aggregate they would total $300,000.

Although the names of the defendants and their exact number were ordered withheld pending the arrests it was stated probably more than thirty-two and possibly forty men were accused, inasmuch as more than one defendant was named in some of the indictments. Almost all the men, it was declared, were either union officials or men who were charged with affiliating with the dynamiters.

Asked if any men higher up had been indicted, United States District Attorney Miller refused to say. Intimation came from another source, however, that no officials higher than those who had headquarters in Indianapolis were involved.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and Herbert S. Hockin, the secretary-treasurer, when informed of the indictments refused to comment, except to repeat their statements that J. J. McNamara acted on his own responsibility when he organized his "dynamiting crew." Hockin succeeded McNamara as secretary-treasurer. With the return of the indictments, District Attorney Miller completed an inquiry begun last October and the federal grand jury ended six weeks' hearing of testimony, in which it is said McNamara's confession, given before the jurors verbally in detail and involving others, and papers taken from the headquarters of the iron workers, had important bearing.

BANKERS WILL BE HERE FEBRUARY 20

The bankers of the city held a meeting last evening to arrange a program for the meeting of the bankers' association which will be held at Ada on the 20th. The program will soon be ready for publication, and the other features of the entertainment will also be given out soon.

As stated before, this meeting is of no little importance to Ada, and every attention should be given the visitors. Not only will several hundred bankers be present, but a special car of New York and Kansas City bankers will be here. It may be worth much to Ada to give these men a good impression of the town, for if that is done and they leave full of confidence in the future of Ada, it is hard to estimate the results which might follow.

H. R. Snyder and S. J. Haines came in this morning from Petersburg, Indiana, and will be here about two weeks' on business. That they have lost none of their enthusiasm for Ada and Pontotoc county as will be seen from reading a communication in this issue. In fact, it is the opinion of the reporter that it is just a matter of a short time until these boosters, who already have extensive interests in this section, will pull up stakes and move here bag and baggage. The thermometer registered from 20 to 25 below zero in the late blizzards, in their state of Indiana, and this spring day was a revelation to them.

COMES BACK BOOSTING ADA

H. R. SNYDER AND S. J. HAINES
OF PETERSBURG, IND. STILL
FULL OF ENTHUSIASM.

We are here again to spend a few days in Ada. We want to renew our acquaintance with our friends we have made in the past.

We were agreeably surprised to find that Ada has made such a building record since we were here a year ago.

On our way down I remarked to Mr. Haines that I was of the opinion owing to the past three unfavorable crop years throughout the southwest we would most likely find business conditions very quiet at Ada.

But before we had reached the Frisco depot we could see from the car window the wonderful progress your city had made in the way of building activity during our absence. Everybody seems to be on the hustle and have great faith in the future of their town and are proud of the interests they hold.

It looks as though the pioneer days of Ada were not over yet, for there seems to still be plenty of opportunities here awaiting the new comers to make money in this locality.

For your wide-awake ambitious citizens who have banded themselves together with a pledge that they would all work for the best interests of the building of your city, and the development of your county, are constantly calling aloud to outsiders to come and join them: to come and be one of them, and enjoy their proportion of the future growth and increase in property values, for there is still a constant demand for more business houses and more homes, and it looks as though every one who owns a vacant building site or a tract of farm land has recently been or is extensively engaged in improving it, or preparing to do so in the near future and there seems to be no doubt as to your future and rapid growth continuing for every one who knows the conditions here knows you are blessed with good railroad facilities, blessed with one of the most progressive school systems in your state, and blessed with an inexhaustible supply of good pure water that flows from the famous bubbling Byrd's Mill springs, which are noted for their purity which is always the main need of any town—good water—and always the leading factor in the building and advancement of any city, as well as the development of its tributary resources. And in addition to these facts you have many other advantages too numerous to mention and it is becoming more widely known each passing year that Ada is located just right to become a manufacturing and commercial center. The people in the territory adjacent Ada for many miles in every direction realize that Ada is their best supply point and best market to dispose of any and all kinds of products produced by the tiller of the soil, and that the Ada merchants stretch out a glad hand to them and offer them all kinds of inducements to make Ada their best and most desirable trading place and I am going to wager a summer coin skin with our mutual friend, John D. Rinzard, that my prediction made two years ago that Ada would be a city of ten thousand in five years, will come true.

In the past fifteen years the population of the country has increased 32 per cent, while the cost of national government has increased 105 per cent. This was under Republican administration. A consistent party to talk of economy. If the republicans should obtain control of the state government of Oklahoma, and should employ the same "economy" that they have employed in national affairs, the annual cost of our state government would exceed $21,250,000 and the per capita cost of state government would be increased more than 700 per cent.

DOES THIS EXPLAIN?

At a recent meeting at the chamber of commerce, one citizen, in a speech declared that $45 a month was entirely too much pay for a school teacher, and condemned the school board in unmeasured terms for extravagance. What have the teachers to say to that?—Guthrie Leader.

If that wise guy is a fair sample of the members of the Guthrie Chamber of Commerce, no wonder the town has grown none in ten years. Too much moss-backism among such men as above.

HAS ANYBODY HERE SEEN KELLEY?

Senator LaFollette says the great newspapers are battered by the "interests." If the story be correct, The Husonian should be permitted to add that the concern which sent our quota employed a messenger who has been a helufa long time reaching Hugo.—Hugo Husonian.

He failed to find the News also. A liberal reward will be paid to the one who locates the messenger who made off with the part of the slush that belonged to this paper. There's a chance for you to do some good detective work, Mr. LaFollette.

The republicans of Oklahoma have little to say of national extravagance. The national record is a republican record. At the last session of the sixtieth Congress there was appropriated to defray the annual operating expenses of the government for the year ending June 30, 1910, the enormous sum of $1,044,014,898.23, this is a sum equal to $12.50 for every person in the Republic, a sum that is equal to one dollar per minute for every minute of time which has elapsed since Christ was born up to the present hour, one dollar for every minute of time of the one thousand nine hundred and twelve years of the entire Christian era.

TRY IT AGAIN.

It has been almost a year since many citizens of Ada signed their names as members of the Ada Chamber of Commerce, with most of them, however, that was as far as it went. Some of them paid their dues for a time, and some never did. The result was that the movement has accomplished very little. It is now time to get together once more. After reviving the organization a well trained secretary should be employed and required to devote his entire time to the work. The average citizens of Ada is usually ready to come across with his share of whatever is needed, but the trouble is that everybody being so very busy, no one has time to take the lead as must be done if effective work is to be done. Some man must devote his entire attention to the work, or it must lag. There is plenty to do and now is the time.

A prominent suffragist argues that if women want the ballot they had better quit their parading and howling and try feeding the brutes awhile. As a matter of fact there is something in that sort of philosophy. Give a man a big dinner, then while he is dozing in his easy chair with a good cigar in his mouth, and he is at peace with all mankind and more especially with womankind that can create such triumphs of the culinary art. While such a state there could be no more propitious moment for the women to approach the softened brute and make known her request. Ten to one he will come across, and if later he is inclined to break his promise, visions of that dinner and others that will follow hold him to his word. Yes, by all means feed the brute. It is more effective than cussing him.

IT ALL DEPENDS ON WHOSE OX NEEDS GORE-ING.

The Oklahoman's crude efforts to imitate the Kansas City Star in its post-card polling stunt are ludicrous. The Star worships Roosevelt. That favorite of the noisy ones needed help and The Star put on a show for him that beats anything ever heard of in the line of mock serious burlesques. Roosevelt is getting more votes than all the other candidates in the republican, democratic and socialist parties.

The Oklahoman, with all the other relics of populism in Oklahoma, is for Woodrow Wilson. He needed help and so our esteemed contemporary put on a post-card polling show, and presto! Woodrow Wilson not only beats Roosevelt, but all his possible democratic competitors.

Ain't it amusing? But, then, it's their show, and they have a right to run it any way they darned please. Besides, Wilson really needs the votes.—Shawnee News-Herald.

Roosevelt Meeting Is Postponed.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 6.—In connection with the postponement yesterday until Feb. 23 of the proposed meeting in Oklahoma City to organize a state Roosevelt club, it developed today that the postponement was advised, or practically ordered by the national headquarters of the Roosevelt movement in Chicago. The meeting was called for next Saturday by Ed Perry of Coalgate, as chairman of the Oklahoma Roosevelt movement. Other Roosevelt enthusiasts took up the matter with the National headquarters and the meeting was postponed.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE IS SECURED FOR ADA

Second story of the Roach, Rayburn and Houpt building on 12th street has been secured. This is a large and spacious building where the various courses can be demonstrated in the various departments. The school will open about the first of March. Prof. Lemon will begin a thorough canvass for students at once. Let's get ready. He desires to have a large student body at the opening of the school. Book-keeping, with all commercialism which appertains thereto, is included in the course. Likewise with the stenographic and typewriting course. Commercial literary branches taught and included in all scholarships.

For the present Prof. Lemon will have his office and headquarters in the rear of the Ada National Bank. Write, phone or call on him for terms prices and particulars, Phone 22.

NOTICE.

I have opened a tin shop on Townsend avenue between Main and 12th street, first door south of Smith's furniture store. I am prepared to do all kinds of tin and sheet metal work. Any business you will turn to me will be appreciated and will be cared for promptly and in a mechanical way.

BROOM FACTORY IN OPERATION

The latest enterprise to be launched in Ada is a broom factory. W. A. Riley has just installed one in the Coca Cola Bottling Works building on East Main street. The factory will hereafter turn out plenty of brooms for the busy housewives of Pontotoc county and then some. It will now be in order for some enterprising advocates of crop diversification to plant enough broom corn to keep the factory going without having to import its straw.

I have ordered a Peerless garment pressing machine which will be here within the next two weeks. I will then be prepared to do all kinds of cleaning and pressing. J. W. Sweatt Phone 362.

On the modern household. The up-to-date housewife no longer finds the household duties a drudgery. She has electricity installed in her home. The house is heated, she cooks, bakes, operates her sewing machine, her washing machine and does her ironing—all by electricity. It saves health and strength and prolongs life. It is quick, reliable and convenient. The housewife who would like to learn how to lighten her labors should call at our office. We will be glad to explain more fully.

HEYBURN OPPOSED TO CONFEDERATE MONUMENT

Washington, Feb. 5.—The fight over the $125,000 bill for a Confederate naval monument in the Vicksburg National Military Park, which caused vigorous debate at the recent extra session of congress, was renewed in the senate today. Senator Williams of Mississippi, its author, urged action. Senator Heyburn of Idaho vigorously opposed it and in the end his objection postponed action for the day.

Mr. Williams said that the monument had been suggested by the chairman of the Vicksburg Commission, a federal soldier. Heyburn retorted he would have no legislation that would revive the bitter memories of the war of the sixties.

"Can't you let that ghost rest in its grave?" he asked.

"It was not fair he said, to tax the entire country to unite in such an undertaking as the erection of a monument to Confederate soldiers."

Mr. Williams pleaded for a vote. He declared that "a man who inherits more than his father feels, inherits too much," and he characterized as "arrogant assumption" the contention that only the people of the North were interested in guarding the National treasury.

His efforts were unavailing.

HERRING WILL SHIP

MUCH ASPHALT

D. A. Herring informs the News that as soon as the weather becomes a trifle warmer he will again begin shipping asphalt from his mine near the cement plant. He has contracts at Hugo, Muskogee, and other points, and if he only had better railroad connections, he could save much in the way of freight. As it is now the asphalt must be hauled in wagons from the mine to town, when if the O. C. could be induced to build a spur to the mine, all this expense could be saved, and shipping greatly facilitated. If he can secure the co-operation of the citizens of Ada, he believes he can get the extension and would like to have all the assistance he can get in bringing this about.

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help,
Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer."

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.

At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm." There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

Women Tax Assessors at Spokane.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 7.—Glen B. Creighton, assessor of Spokane county, has appointed seven women to handle household assessments in Spokane this spring. They will begin work early in March at $90 a month, the same as is paid to men. Forty-two men have been appointed for this city. It is likely that a number of women will be named deputy assessors for the 18 incorporated towns in this county. This is the first time that women have been called upon to share in this work with men. Mr. Creighton says his appointees are married women of good business ability and he predicts they will do the work in a satisfactory way. "If they do as well as we expect," he added, "I see no reason why they should not have equal chances with men in this kind of work." Mrs. D. B. Hirschfeld, the first woman appointed, probably will be chief deputy. The others are: Mrs. Lucile Van Ness, Mrs. L. M. Donaldson, Mrs. H. S. Golden, Mrs. Mary A. Welch, Mrs. Emma McClellan and Mrs. M. G. Plough.

LAWTON MEN

BUILD GOOD ROAD

Lawton, Okla., Feb. 6.—Following the example of citizens of Lincoln county who recently constructed thirty miles of road in a day, the business men of Lawton, 600 of them, with 125 teams, spent Tuesday in constructing a model road from Fort Hill to Lawton, a three-mile stretch from the military reservation to the edge of town.

The day was declared a holiday. All banks and business houses and both city and county offices were closed for the day.

There were too many men for the number of teams needed and on parts of the road squads of men pulled dump wagons by hand.

The ladies of the city hauled luncheon to the men by automobiles and at houses adjoining the road, made hot coffee for them.

child's mind and teach him to recognize and love beauty.

Art had been thus taught since the "Alkin bill" was defeated in 1912, and the state schools were allowed to go on training teachers; the love of the beautiful was evident everywhere. There were no discords in color schemes; no mixed architecture; each building was a gem, the walls were properly tinted, the few pictures were perfect; every room had one or more groups of statuary, a few fine plants and flowers brightened the rooms and halls.

Music and singing were taught from the primary grades on up in a manner that enabled the children to enjoy only good music and to sing as easily and spontaneously as birds.

I recognized a joyousness in their songs that made me wonder if I had awakened in Paradise.

The second floor of this wonderful school was a study hall with classrooms opening into it.

From the fourth to eighth year the pupils assembled in this hall for study, with an assistant teacher for each thirty pupils. The children passed in groups of from ten to fifteen, to the class rooms where the work consisted of readings, spelling contests, drills for rapid and accurate thought, very practical arithmetic, conversations, investigations into Nature's handiwork, and the study of cause and effect along all lines within the grasp of a child's intellect. There were illustrated lectures, geography and history were made delightful by slides and moving pictures.

The health of the children had been looked after at school for many years; a doctor employed by the city had no other work than looking after the health of the children, and a dentist was employed in the same manner to keep their teeth in perfect condition.

There were kitchens for each grade after the third, and each boy and girl was trained in cooking, housekeeping and taught the principles of domestic economy. The noonday lunch for the entire school and faculty was prepared; under the direction of instructors, by the pupils and properly served in the dining halls.

The third floor of this central building was an auditorium accommodating several hundred people and was the social center of the community. At either side of the main building was a gymnasium over a large swimming pool—one for the boys and one for the girls. These three buildings faced Fourth street and the remainder of the block to third street was divided into a boy's ball ground on one side, and a girl's ball ground on the other, with a tennis court between. In the spaces between the buildings were fine swings, jumping rods, vaulting poles other appliances for out door sports and exercises.

The principles of agriculture were taught at school and put in practice at home under the guidance of the parents.

The entire block where the old school stood was a playground park with fountains, trees, flower-borders, swings, sand-piles, wading-pools and every out door plaything children like. A broad circular gravel walk surrounded the central fountain and its pretty flow border. All day long little children ran, raced and played on this delightful track.

"So wondrous fine it all did seem
The scenery of a fairy dream."
"You do so much for the children," I said to an attendant.
"Yes," he answered, "Americans used to take more pains with fine horses, cattle and hogs than with their children and to pile up money seemed their only aim. Nowadays it

A GLIMPSE INTO THE FUTURE
ADA AND ROFF IN 1960.

(Mrs. B.)
I dreamed last night that I awoke and found myself in Ada in the year 1960.

I dressed and went for a walk through the town.

What changes had taken place while I slept. The muddy or dusty streets of 1912 were packed from one side to the other as smooth as asphalt paving, and bordered all along by green parkings from which grew stately trees; on the other side of the walks were beautiful flower-bordered lawns surrounding lovely homes built of durable material with arbors, pergolas and deep summer porches.

In the back yards were fruit trees and gardens; often, clean chicken runs and very neat, clean pig-pens where inoffensive porkers seemed to enjoy their sanitary quarters; on many lawns, dainty Jersey calves played with the children or lay enjoying the sunshine.

Those children! Happy, healthy boys and girls, playing singing, romping about, were the most beautiful I had ever seen.

I went on until I came to a group of three fine buildings of pure Grecian architecture which I learned was the Third Ward school and that each ward had a similar group of school buildings and playgrounds.

The central structure was three stories; I entered and found on the first floor, the primary grades. Each thirty pupils had a room and two teachers. The principal teacher called groups of six and ten children to chairs around her knees and a recitation went on as a quiet conversation. A unique method was used: The sentences of the children were typewritten by the teacher and given to the children to read. She wrote their wonderful stories of home-life or incidents of the playground and gave them for reading lessons. Finding their own vocabulary and their own stories in print, and a new set of lessons each day, the little ones learned to read readily and naturally.

The assistant teacher kept order, directed desk work and attended to the needs of the little family. Interruptions were frequent, and as great care was taken to educate the body as the mind of the child, to teach him to be active, self-reliant, alert and able to take care of himself.

After the pupils learned to read well, they were taught to write, count to keep accounts or a little journal.

During the second and third year in school, they were taught spelling, the use of the dictionary, punctuation and the structure of the English language.

When they began the fourth year's work they were well equipped for the acquisition of book knowledge.

During all these early years they had been taught observation of nature; the names and qualities of animals, trees, plants, flowers and their usefulness, all common minerals and their uses and much more about the wonderful creations to be seen call around them.

Art was taught in every grade, not with a view of making artists, but rather to awaken and educate the

MISSING TREASURER RETURNS TO DUNCAN

Oklahoma City, Feb. 7.—Gabe Fitzhugh, county treasurer of Stephens county, who has been missing since January 27, and whose office was taken in charge by the state examiner and inspector, resulting in the suspension of Fitzhugh by District Judge Frank M. Bailey, has returned to Oklahoma. He left Oklahoma City at 10 o'clock Monday night for Duncan where he declares that he will be able to explain all apparent discrepancies in his books.

Fitzhugh did not know that he had been suspended from office, and that his accounts are being checked up until last night, when he was informed of the condition of affairs by Seth K. Cordoa, whom he met on the train. Fitzhugh was staggered when told of the situation.

Cordoa and Fitzhugh met casually on a Rock Island train and fell to discussing political affairs. Fitzhugh remarked that he had been in politics himself, being elected treasurer of Stephens county. Until that time he was not known to Cordoa, and as soon as the latter learned to whom he was talking, he told Fitzhugh of the action of the state officials and his suspension from office.

"I was just on a little pleasure trip around the west with a friend," Fitzhugh said. "I expected to be gone but a few days, but I met a friend, and we went to Kansas City. There is nothing wrong with my books, and I can soon prove it. Just before leaving I collected some taxes, giving a receipt for them. The money was deposited, but has not been accounted for yet, which I will be able to do as soon as I return to Stephens county."

Deputy inspectors from the office of state examiner and inspector have been in the office of the Stephens county treasurer since early last week. A successor to Fitzhugh was to have been appointed Monday by the county commissioners. This action, however, was not taken.

Fitzhugh stated that he had never notified his wife of his whereabouts, but he wired her immediately after his arrival in Oklahoma City.

Mining Laws Are Antiquated.
Proposed amendments of the well-established laws relating to metalliferous minerals always raise the warmest discussion. With the opinion of mining men in general favoring revision of mining laws of the United States and with commission after commission appointed by various bodies to suggest improvements, the statutes have remained practically unchanged for nearly 40 years, while the geology of ore deposits and the technology of metal mining have made marvelous progress.

Most important, perhaps, in any amended mining law would be provision for enforced development, a principle expressed, it is true, in the present law but not made effective in its workings. A requirement of actual use as a condition of occupancy of mineral land can not be regarded as either novel or radical. As regards the large acreage of undeveloped land in many mining camps to which patent has already been issued, it is perhaps true that the situation is without relief, unless the western Australia plan is adopted, whereby the government steps in and permits mining under a lease, the proceeds of which are assessed, collected, and paid over to the owner. The principle invoked seems to be that no property owner can rightfully oppose the development of the resources of the state.

In the case of unpatented claims a remedy should be sought for what has been termed "the paralysis of mining districts," and the rigid requirement of annual assessment work should be made actual and effective by inspection and supervision, in order to put an end to the present procedure of allowing a claim to lie idle for practically two years after its location, not to mention the many localities where claims are held year after year with only perfunctory compliance, or even without any performance of assessment work—a type of local disregard for law that is in striking contrast to the observation accorded to the district customs and regulations of earlier days, whereby the right of possession was made absolutely dependent upon continuous operation. (From Report of Director, United States Geological Survey.)

The Woman's Tonic

We learn from The Journal of the American Medical Association that among those who shared in the honors distributed by King George on the occasion of the Durbar ceremony were two British "patent-medicine" exploiters, who have made their millions from the gullible sick, and who have now received the order of knighthood. The occasion seems one that is pregnant with opportunities for sarcastic comment, at the expense of royalty and monarchical governments. But then we unwillingly remember that genial personage whose relationship to the Duffy's Malt Whiskey outfit and the canning company that sold short-weight products has often been the subject of comment—the gentleman whom a free people elected to the second highest office it has to give, name the vice-presidency of the United States. After which, it seems, the less said the better.
